Shades of Pink

Wrapping up National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, networking organization Next In Line hosted a fashion-forward fund-raiser in Miami.

In an effort to raise money for the Florida Breast Cancer Coalition Research Foundation, more than 150 Miamians headed to Mansion nightclub last Thursday for the third annual Shades of Pink fund-raiser.

The event, co-hosted by the club and Next In Line—a networking organization of young professionals—featured a silent auction and fashion show presented by Saks Fifth Avenue Dadeland. Throughout the evening, guests were treated to mini doughnuts made on the spot, compliments of Donut Divas, and light bites from Eggwhites Special Event Catering. Additionally, local artist Kiki Valdez created a painting live on site, which was later added to the auction lots.
